
Brooklyn Heights Jewish International Film Festival

At Cong. B'nai Avaraham

117 Remsen Street (bet Clinton & Henry Street)

December 8 • 8pm

"Match and Marry"
Directed by Suzannah Warlick , 2007
50 min

Match and Marry follows the arduous task of matchmaking in Brooklyn and New York as it is integrated into modern times.

Followed by a post-screening discussion with matchmaker Chana Sharfstein who is featured in the movie.

December 15 • 8pm

"Yippie: A Journey to Jewish Joy"
Directed by Paul Mazursky, 2006
74 minutes

Academy Award nominee, Paul Mazursky spends the High Holidays with 25,000 Breslav Hassidim in Uman, sharing meals, laughter and tears.

Followed by a post-screening discussion and concert with Breslav Hassidim featureed in the movie.

"Brilliant documentary, beautifully told and funny." – Larry King
"Paul Mazursky delivers an enchanting world, funny, fascinating and surprisingly touching." – Mel Brooks
"A deeply moving film powerful and wonderfully funny. Yippee!" – Kirk Douglas

December 22 • 8pm

"Creating Harmony: The Displaced Persons' Orchestra at St. Ottilien"
Directed by John Michalczyk, 2007
54 minutes

Jewish survivors of the Holocaust, who formed a bond through their music during DP camp imprisonment. They performed frequently at St. Ottilien, and later at prisons, sanitariums, and for Nuremberg judges.

Followed by a post-screening discussion and book signing with Sonia Beker who's book Symphony on Fire inspired the movie.

Suggested admission $5 • Reservation Requested • Walk-in's Welcome
Contact festival curator Simcha Weinstein
(718) 596 4840 x15 • e-mail: rabbi@pratt.edu
bnaiavraham.com